There was only one finisher last night, as the failing wind and flooding tide carried the Breakwater Irregular Fleet past the point of no return. All hats off to Sue Sey for making it across in such difficult conditions!

This coming Sunday, July 26th, will see the start (and, we hope, a finish) of our next day race. First gun will be at 11:50. It would be well to be out there by 11:30, to receive your circular.
